

FOUR CALABOORS TO GRAVE IN COFFIN

Body arrives at Liverpool.

When the steamer Baltic, on board which Mayor Gaynor died at sea last Wednesday, docked at 8:30 o'clock Friday evening, the landing stage was cleared of all persons except the holders of tickets. A great crowd had assembled outside the dock gates, and as the gang-plank was run out Horace L. Washington, the United States consul, accompanied by a delegation from the White Star line, went aboard the ship. In the saloon Mr. Washington met Rufus Gaynor, son of Mayor Gaynor, and expressed condolences on behalf of himself and the lord mayor of Liverpool.

Mr. Gaynor readily assented to the plans of the Liverpool civil authorities for the lying in state of his father. Acting on the request of Mr. Washington, the civil authorities waived the formalities usual in the landing of the dead from vessels and the body of Mayor Gaynor, in a plain coffin which was covered by an American flag, was brought ashore as soon as the first class passengers had left the Baltic.

The tide was so high that it was impossible for pallbearers to carry the body from the ship and the coffin was let down to the dock through the baggage chute. Here it was taken in charge by a London undertaker sent down to Liverpool by the American embassy.

Crowd Watches Cortege.

From the dock the coffin was carried to the street where it was placed in a hearse drawn by four horses which was followed by the lord mayor's carriage occupied by Rufus Gaynor and Consul Washington. The funeral cortege, escorted by a squad of mounted police, made its way through a dense crowd of quiet people who unobscured as the hearse passed to the town hall. The hearse was followed on foot by a woman in deep black who had at her side a little girl. The woman declined to give her name, but said she was a friend of Mayor Gaynor from New York.

The secretary of the lord mayor, assisted by a delegation of civic dignitaries received the body at the town hall. When the coffin was placed on the catafalque one end was held by a beautiful wreath of lilies of the valley, bearing the inscription: "Deepest sympathy from the Lord Mayor and Citizens of Liverpool."

Another wreath composed of Easter lilies bore a card inscribed: "The condolences of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Lee Washington."

The hall where the body was taken then was closed and Rufus Gaynor was left alone a few minutes with his dead father. Afterwards Mr. Gaynor was taken to a hotel by Consul Washington.

The result of the last count of the ballots for queen of the Fall Exposition shows Emma Giomi in the lead with a margin of 49. Florence Meyers, a new contestant, Mary Michalski, jumped into the running with a total of 263 votes on the first ballot. CHILD WINS IN HARD FIGHT WITH TUBERCULOSIS

DOROTHY AND INEZ BOWMAN

About a year ago little Dorothy Bowman of Clarksville, Indiana, was literally "coughing her life away." She coughed day and night and was confined to her bed the greater part of the time. Fortunately, her mother began giving her Nature's Creation, the standard remedy for tuberculosis and asthma, and improvement followed quickly.

"I am sending you Dorothy's photograph and statement regarding what Nature's Creation has done for her. Along about the middle of June, 1912, my little girl took sick with a terrible cough, just coughed day and night, not able to sit up half the time—until on the first of August I began giving her Nature's Creation. When she had taken half a bottle she began improving. I gave her four bottles of Nature's Creation and today she is seemingly well. Does not cough at all. The largest child on the photograph is Dorothy—the other is her little sister, Inez."

MRS. CLARK BOWMAN, Clarksville, Indiana.

Full record of this case, together with many local cases, can be seen by anyone. Write for valuable booklet containing full information regarding the cure of tuberculosis and the troubles which lead to it, such as weak lungs, bronchitis, impure blood, run down system and asthma. This booklet also contains photos and testimonials from local parties. It will be sent free of all charges. Address M. L. Hayman, 417 State Life Building, Indianapolis, Ind.

Robertson's GREATER MILLINERY SECTION Has No Equal In South Bend

The Robertson department, which has lately been enlarged and improved to a great extent, was never the recipient of such praise and admiration for the new creations.

The new models are superb in the comprehensiveness as set forth at Robertson's.

The new colors, embodying hundreds of fitting examples of the highest skill, include: Tango brown, petrole blue, Russian green, Callot yellow, tete de negre and geranium red.

Robertson's Own "Copies" Are Notable Examples, While Four of America's Foremost Makers Are Here

Guided by the exquisite models from American, and designers from abroad, our milliners have produced dashing hats in which the most charming grace and skill have enthusiastically been conceived. Such hats as have been produced by the most notable originators can be had here at remarkably low prices in comparison. (Millinery—Second Floor)

It is customary for discerning women to regard any new product of the Hyland Milliners as authentic. And it is as reliable a source through which one may be guided as any we know. Our display of Hyland Hats for fall and winter alone will equal any assemblage of American hats in the land. These models are now presented for the first.

The prominent maker seems to have reached the height of achievement in the creations submitted for fall. For example: Turn to the pages of your September Ladies' Home Journal and see their $500 prize Rembrandt hat. This hat is now on exhibition in our show windows. A tasty mode colored French Plume gracefully applied to a seal brown velour plush.

This season the Gage milliners have even outdone their usual efficiency. The varied models which have been prepared for their fall and winter trade embody each and every tendency dame fashion has elicited. The variety of Gage Hats here alone makes a showing worth any woman's while who is interested in what's new from an authoritative source.

A most charming aggregation of dashing hats in the newest "foreign horn" ideas have been duplicated and "Americanized." The Regina Milliners have done justice to the reputation that Regina makers enjoy. This exhibition alone will command your admiration for it involves all that has been introduced and accepted for the coming seasons of fall and winter.
